ONGOING CONSTRUCTION at Granite City Steel carries with it some growing pains. About 75 persons met yesterday to complain about plans for construction soon of a new slab storage building near the Granite City-Madison city line, beside Kennedy Drive (not the construction shown). Strong vibrations are feared from dropping and overturning heavy steel slabs during the loading, unloading and scarfing operations. The group also contends that the mill has not obtained proper zoning for industrial use of the land. Granite City Steel officials were unavailable this morning for comment. (Press-Record Photo by Patrick Foley)

SIUE accepts county Head Start Program

In a meeting Thursday, officials of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville officially agreed to take over control of the idled Head Start program and get it operating again as soon as administrative details are worked out, probably by the end of this month.

Agreement between university officials and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services was reached in Chicago Thursday. The federal department will send a grant to SIUE to administer Head Start until the end of its fiscal year March 31. Then, funding is guaranteed to operate the program through July 1.

Head Start will be administered by the office of Barbara Teters, SIUE vice president and provost and Willie Epps, coordinator of Head Start in St. Clair County will become acting director of the Madison County program.

Vice President Teters said Health and Human Services officials in Chicago approached SIUE and asked the university to take over interim sponsorship of the program after the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission relinquished control of Head Start.

The EOC is faced with possible financial collapse after a state audit showed nearly $1 million in questionable expenditures by the agency.

Voting soon on school cuts

Stressing that they are seven individuals of equal voting power and differing approaches, Granite City Board of Education members tomorrow night or soon thereafter may vote to consolidate more administrative posts. Four jobs were combined into two on Dec. 6.

Although the members do not have identical viewpoints, their thinking is believed to overlap sufficiently that a 4-3 or 5-2 margin may be achieved on votes to eliminate several jobs and perhaps adjust some of the salaries.

FACTORS CITED include the present operating debt that requires a half-million to three-quarter-million dollars in yearly interest. To drastically reduce basic costs, there must be fewer supervisors, it is being contended.

For differing reasons, there is resentment among some current board members toward past school policies and actions, including alleged political overtones in past hiring, promotion, demotion and dismissal decisions. Allegations include insensitive treatment of certain employees.

Staff members are thought to hold implied contracts of employment until June. The Dec. 6 decisions and those yet to be made are to be effective at the close of the fiscal year June 30.

Why should administrative or other personnel be cut adrift before attaining their retirement and pension aspirations?

BUDGET IMBALANCES are being noted, along with a belief that

Careful planning key to SIUE'S future—Lazerson

The importance of long range planning, a revitalized general education program and a just distribution of resources was the major focus of President Earl Lazerson's annual address to the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville community on campus Thursday afternoon.

Citing the progress that has been made toward these goals in recent years, President Lazerson said "We have accomplished much over the past several years in bringing order into our house and extending educational opportunities for those we serve. We have accomplished this while undergoing continuous and accelerated change in the fabric of education . . . all elements of the university have responded in exemplary fashion to ambiguous and demanding circumstances."

THE PRESIDENT pointed to the steps that are being taken toward developing a continuous planning process, including comprehensive reviews of both academic and non-instructional programs by the Long Range Planning Committee (LRPC) of the University Planning and Budget Counell (UPBC). Following constituency reviews of the recommendations by these groups, he said he hopes to have plans for action ready to implement by June of this year.

Lazerson said he believes the LRPC has adhered to the planning philosophy of the Faculty Senate, and he said he would heed the Faculty Senate admonition that "any modification of programs which results from these determinations must be made in a manner which is academically sound and makes the best use of existing human and other economic resources."

In addition, planning projects mentioned by the president as having been completed, under way or contemplated included an energy audit for all university facilities and management reviews for the University Center, Tower Lake housing, textbook rental service, University police and Foundation and Alumni Administration. He said the Planning and Budget Council is revising the budget planning calendar and will review various documents delineating the university's mission as next steps in long range planning.

THE PRESIDENT also has requested that the Planning and Budget Council advise him concerning information processing needs and priorities in all aspects of the university's work.

In matters relating to the arts and sciences, President Lazerson said he feels there are areas that need to be strengthened, "for example, foreign languages and those aspects of our programs that treat global history, culture, economics, trade and political institutions."

Tracing the development of the general education program, he said the Curriculum Council proposal of December 1982 represents "the university's best hope of a revitalized general education program."

BUT HE CAUTIONED that before such development can take place, the university must address the need for a "clear and direct rationale on general education that will serve several important functions. It (education) must provide the basis for subsequent planning, development, and evolution of the general education program, "it must offer a clear description of the program and its objectives, one suitable for adaptation to the university 'announcements' and other informative materials and by its clear correla-

Piloting at age 16 is a tradition

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH of the Press-Record

David Midyett, a former Granite City resident who turned 16 Thursday, celebrated his birthday by getting his license. The type of license he received didn't enable him to drive a car, but it did make him eligible to solo in an airplane.

David completed his "final exam" for a student pilot certificate by solo piloting a single-engine Cessna 182, a four-passenger airplane that soars at about 160 miles per hour. He completed two takeoffs and landings at Nichols Field (the former Lakeside airport) on Illinois Route 111.

ALTHOUGH DAVID'S flying certificate only enables him to fly by himself, he hopes to receive a private pilot's license when he turns 17 so that he can transport passengers. From there, he will attempt to receive his instrument license and, at 18, he plans to test for his commercial and multi-engine licenses.

Some may consider David a novice pilot, but he could hardly be called new to the field. He has been flying with his father since the age of 6 weeks and has been piloting airplanes since the age of 9. He also has logged an estimated 225 hours at the wheel.

The confidence he displayed before his solo flight on Thursday may have been due to this experience. Some encouraging words from his father may also have had something to do with it.

DAVID'S FATHER, Chuck Midyett, is a qualified flight instructor, and has been a DC-9 pilot for Ozark Airlines for 19 years. "I'm not concerned at all about him flying today," Chuck said before David made his flight. "He's been flying for seven years and he has more experience and training than many commercial pilots."

During David's solo flight, Chuck stood on the runway, movie camera in hand, recording every motion of the plane. Every once in a while he muttered something, and once he almost dropped the camera — but most of the time he stood in silence just watching.

Chuck joked that he was going to use the video tape to tease David about how "bad" he did, but one could see that Chuck was really proud of his son's accomplishment.

ALTHOUGH EARNING a pilot license is something not too many people accomplish, for the Midyett family, the accomplishment is somewhat of a tradition.

David represents the third generation of flyers in his family. His father also made his first solo flight on his 16th birthday in August of 1960. David's grandfather, Omar Midyett, 75, of Hondo, Texas, made his first solo flight in his early 20s. Omar formerly operated Lakeside Airport from 1940 to 1966 and is now a flight instructor for the Air Force.

Other members of the Midyett family who have received their pilot's license include David's aunts, Mrs. Lana Geiger and Mrs. Jean Tindell. David's sister, Lisa, 12, is currently practicing so that she can receive her student flying certificate on her 16th birthday.

AFTER DAVID completed his solo flight at Nichols Field, he and his father flew to Harrisburg, Ill., in, Southern Illinois, where David successfully piloted two other types of aircraft — a Cessna 152 and a Cessna 172.

Later, an open house reception was hosted by his parents, Chuck and Cheryl Midgett, in their home in Nottingham Estates, Maryville. About 45 persons attended.

After all the flying was over, David said he thought he did "pretty well," but he said he was sorry it was all over. "I'd rather still be flying than on the ground," he said.

DAVID WAS BORN in Granite City, but moved at age 5 with his family to Collinsville. They later moved to their present home in Maryville.

David currently is a sophomore at Metro-East Lutheran High School in Edwardsville, where he participates in sports as a manager for the varsity basketball team. His hobbies, besides flying, include riding trimotos (three-wheeled motorcycles).

David's future plans include joining the United States Air Force after high school and then, going on to become a professional airline pilot.

'Chemical People' impact still felt

Today, more than two months after Channel 9's telecast of "The Chemical People," there are approximately 110 local task forces in operation, actively working on the drug and alcohol abuse problem in their communities.

Strategies include creating activities for young people as alternatives to substance abuse, working with schools to institute or strengthen existing drug education curriculum, working with police forces to establish appropriate consequences for young abusers, creating parent support networks, and establishing peer counseling groups in schools.

On Nov. 2 and 9, more than 22,000 people gathered in schools, clubs, homes, community centers and churches throughout the St. Louis metropolitan area to watch "The Chemical People," two hour-long PBS specials. The nationally-coordianted effort represents the largest anti-drug and alcohol campaign targeting children in history.

One hundred twenty-four town meetings took place, stretching from St. Genevieve County in Missouri to Randolph County in Illinois. One hundred seven meeting coordinators reported attendance figures totaling 12,606 people on Nov. 2, and 9,605 people on Nov. 9.

In Ferguson-Florissant, the task force is collecting names, addresses and phone numbers of people and agencies working in the field of drug abuse. The information will be entered in a computer, and used to refer concerned citizens to the best sources.

The Ladue task force videotaped a panel discussion involving local police chiefs, describing how they handle juvenile drug and alcohol offenders. The tape will be available to every task force so that other communities can share the good ideas generated at the meeting. A member of the audience asked, "How can we, as parents, support the police?" Replied Ladue Police Chief Kenneth Krueger, "That's not the right question. What you shoud be asking is how can we, as polie, support the parents?"

Citizens in Berkeley and Cahokia did not organize town meetings when "The Chemical People" was originally broadcast. After seeing how well the project has been working, town meetings are forming at which videotapes of the two programs will be shown.

To help task forces help each other, Channel 9 will send local meeting coordinators a newsletter in January listing all the task forces with phone numbers of contact people.

"The reaction to 'The Chemical People' has been tremendously positive," said Cheryl Wroth, Channel 9 project coordinator. "The project was successful in helping people get over denial, admit that there are problems with school-age chemical abuse in their communities and forget about trying to put the blame on other people—and they learned to move forward in trying to find solutions through task forces."

ALLEGE THREE YOUTHS HAVE LIQUOR IN AUTO

Jeffrey D. Riggs, 17, of 2300 W. 23rd St., was charged with illegal transportation of alcohol when the auto he was driving was stopped at West 22nd Street and Nevada Avenue last week. He was released after posting his driver's license.

Two passengers in the car, a 16-year-old Granite City youth and a 15-year-old Madison boy, were charged with illegal possession of alcohol. Both were released on notices to appear for a hearing.

OBSTRUCTION IS ALLEGED

W.W. Gibson of the 2900 block of Circle Drive obtained the number of a Norfolk & Western Railroad engine and signed a complaint against the railroad for obstruction of a roadway at a crossing last week. It was alleged the engine blocked the 25th Street crossing for 22 minutes.

Feature film documents Illinois aviation history

The first feature-length documentary on Illinois aviation produced in nearly three decades has just been released by the Illinois Department of Transportation's Division of Aeronautics.

"Prairie Sky" chronicles the history and development of aviation in Illinois and shows how this state played a key role in the first flight at Kitty Hawk, as well as the launch of the first Space Shuttle. "'Prairie Sky' is Illinois' contribution to the Air and Space Bicentennial celebration and will serve as an important public service," said Robert L. Donahue, director of the Illinois Division of Aeronautics.

The half-hour video documentary examines Illinoisian Octave Chanute's role in the first powered flight at Kitty Hawk by the Wright brothers and follows those early days of flight to all parts of Illinois today.

The documentary on videotape now is available on a loan basis to service clubs, community organizations and schools throughout Illinois from the Division of Aeronautics' film library. Plans call for production of 16mm copies, which will also be available through the FAA, State Board of Education Library, the University of Illinois and the Illinois Civil Air Patrol.

Videotape copies of "Prairie Sky" can be obtained for public showing by writing the Division of Aeronautics, 1 Langhorne Bond Drive, Capital Airport, Springfield, Ill., 62706. Requests should be made on organization letterhead, specifying Betamax or VHS.

Fun-N-Fitness an aid for working mothers

The Tri-City Area YMCA has an after school child care program, supervised by Natalie Buster. This program is the Fun-N-Fitness program designed for youths ages 5 through 11. Fun-N-Fitness provides healthful game activities from 3:30 to 6 p.m. with recreational swims on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Parents will be expected to pick up their children at the 'Y' by 6 p.m.

The cost for the program is $2 a day for YMCA members and $3 a day for others. Participants must sign up for at least two days per week.

The after-school program will be offered each day school is in session throughout the school year. Participants should register at least two days in advance.

"This program was designed with working mothers in mind, but non-working mothers, as well, can take advantage of this program, knowing that their children are having fun and are well supervised," Mrs. Buster said.

Transportation will be furnished by the YMCA to pick up children only from schools.

Youths who do not require transportation from school pay $1 less per day.

Further information is available from the YMCA at 876-7200.

Meat processing booklet offered

Pigs are not all pork chops and cattle are not all steaks.

A new booklet, designed as an educational tool for high schoolers, makes that point as it describes the steps in processing meat from the hoof to the household.

The booklet, called "Meat Processing," was prepared by agricultural educators at Southern Illinois University—Carbondale with help from professional meat cutters.

Discussions of quality grading of meats and steps in butchering animals are included.

For a copy of "Meat Processing," interested persons should request it by title and send $3.85 (check or money order payable to Ag Occupations) to Ag Occupations, Department of Agricultural Education and Mechanization, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Ill., 62901.

NOW YOU CAN HAVE A RETIREMENT PLAN THAT'S BETTER THAN THE GOVERNMENT'S.

By the time you retire, if you have to depend on Social Security alone, your golden years are not going to be very colorful.

But now you can start your own retirement plan where you bank, even if you're already covered by another retirement plan where you work.

It's called an Individual Retirement Account, or IRA, and it's available to just about everybody who works.

Each year, you can contribute a tax-deductible portion of your income to the plan, and we'll pay you interest.

The best part is that even the interest is not taxable until you retire (when you're likely to be in a much lower tax bracket) or until you withdraw funds from your account.

So come by to see us soon, and get all the details on our IRA.

Because helping you plan for the future is a part of our commitment to excellence in everything we do.

And we think it makes more sense for you to put your hard-earned money in an IRA than give it to the IRS.

Careful planning

tion with the stated mission of the university, it must provide a standard of reference for the university's self-study."

The president said, "The crucial tasks of transmitting the heritage of the past, of effecting the liberation of mind and spirit, of imparting common knowledge, intellectual constructs and values, is the core of the educational enterprise, and it is this task, falling largely to the arts and sciences, that defines their centrality to the structure of higher education.

"From the perspective of liberal education, the goals of the disciplines must transcend parochialism and overspecialization. The assumption, perhaps unconsciously held, that the world is conveniently organized along disciplinary lines, must undergo examination and where necessary, transformation. And once and for all, we should give timely burial to the sterile conflict between liberal and useful education."

THE PRESIDENT emphasized: "An arts and science label does not make a program liberal and a professional label does not make it useful. Neither individuals nor society can afford useless or illiberal education."

Continuing, President Lazerson said, "Liberal education is a doorway to visions unborn. It calls forth excitement and thereby invites the full emergence of personality and contributes to the formation of character. It is the stuff that a good life and a great society are built upon . . . only as generally educated human beings will our graduates be fully prepared for continued growth, for citizenship, and for useful work — the essential callings of a free society."

Turning to the distribution of resources, President Lazerson quoted the official Mission of SIUE which states in part: "Instruction will continue to be this university's major commitment, and resources will be allocated to support an appropriate balance among the areas of instruction, research and service."

FURTHER, THE university's budget allocation guidelines for Fiscal Year 1984 note that: "Reductions must focus as much as possible on those activities or functions which if modified, would have the least disruptive influence on the university's central instructional mission."

In a similar vein, the university's FY-1985 budget planning guidelines state: . . . "instructional programs, while they have always been the prime function of Illinois public higher education, will be emphasized over public service, research, and administrative support except in selected areas dealing with economic development."

Lazerson said the university is adhering to these directions, and further, he quoted from a recent Illinois Board of Higher Education staff report on Planning and Budgeting Issues which supports these conclusions: changes now occurring in the structure of the Illinois economy are likely to increase the importance of higher education to the state; the number of adults in the 18-24 age group is decreasing and will continue to decrease until the 1990s; the recent growth in the participation rate for older adults appears to indicate that enrollments will fluctuate more in response to short-term economic conditions and that the projected decreases in overall enrollments will either not occur or be smaller than anticipated and the total physical capacity of the system is somewhat greater than systemwide peak enrollments. These findings, in the context of projected enrollment trends, confirm the board's conclusion in 1975 that further expansion of the physical capacity of higher education is unnecessary . . . it is desirable to maintain the capacity that now exists.

OTHER CONCLUSIONS ARE that the current level of state support for higher education in Illinois is average or below average on a per capita basis when compared to other states; the decreasing investment in higher education has resulted in accumulated deficiencies in a number of areas that should be addressed in order to assure adequate quality in higher education and the efforts to assure the effective allocation of higher education resources must be continued in order to respond to changing needs and priorities.

"These findings and conclusions underscore the importance of quality higher education programs to the future of Illinois . . . the emphasis for the future must be on improving the quality of educational program, said President Lazerson.

"The task of improving the quality of higher education will require adequate funds to restore the competiveness of faculty and staff salaries and deal with other deficiencies that have accumulated during recent yers. The task of improving quality will also require the continuation of efforts in program evaluation and program improvements at every level of higher education."

PRESIDENT LAZERSON indicated that the university will implement allocation procedures within the framework of the IBHE considerations. "An appropriate balance in the distribution of resources is essential to implementation of the university's mission and goals and improving quality," he said. "If we have gained something from recent experience, I believe it is an udnerstanding that we can assume the direction of our own destiny," Lazerson stated. "If we do not, forces largely beyond our control will be exerted in a manner far less palatable.

". . . The challenge we face continues to be the fashioning of the best possible future from an uncertain present. I look forward to our meeting this challenge together," President Lazerson concluded.

Urges expanding prison industries work program

Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) has applauded a recommendation made by Chief Justice Warren Burger in his 1983 Year-End Report on the Judiciary to expand the pilot prison industries program, which was created by an amendment Percy attached to the 1979 Law Enforcement Assistance Administration Act.

Under the program, operating in seven prisons in five states, inmates are provided with work experience relevant to outside employment. This includes being paid wages which are subject to deductions for prison room and board, support for families, contributions to funds for restitution of victims of crime, and federal, state and local taxes.

"The chief justice's recommendation to expand this pilot program is a tremendous endorsement of its success," Percy said. "The pogram is a promising way to train inmates and reduce the cost of prisons to society. Now that it has demonstrated its effectiveness, it should be expanded to prisons in all 50 states," he added.

According to Burger's report, released Jan. 2, prisoners working in the seven programs since 1979 have earned more than $1,058,802 in wages. From those wages, more than $166,000 has gone to reimburse states for prison room and board, $106,077 had gone to federal taxes and $15,971 has gone to state taxes. Substantial sums also have gone to support prisoners' families.

Percy offered his amendment in the wake of the 1978 prison riot at Pontiac, Ill., which left three guards dead and prison buildings seriously damaged by fire. The decline of prison industries at Illinois state prisons was widely cited as a factor in the conditions leading up to the riot.

The pilot program created by Percy's amendment involves no expenditures of federal funds.

PICK UP FLORISSANT MAN ON GC, COUNTY WARRANTS

Robert D. White, 34, of Florissant, Mo., was arrested in an apartment in the 2500 block of Parkview Drive at 9:40 a.m. Saturday on an active Granite City warrant alleging failure to pay the fine on an assault charge.

White was released at 10:25 a.m. to Madison County Sheriff's Department personnel, who held a warrant resulting from a civil matter which alleged failure to pay child support.

NAMED IN THREE CHARGES

For allegedly cursing persons in the emergency room lobby at St. Elizabeth Medical Center last week, Arthur Fickenwirth, 47, of 2104 E. 24th St. was arrested for disorderly conduct. He also was booked on a 1983 Granite City warrant charging disorderly conduct and a 1982 Granite City warrant charging trespassing.

MAN CHARGED 3 TIMES

Allen Irvin, 24, East St. Louis, was arrested at Market Street and Madison Avenue last week by Venice police. Irvin was charged with resisting arrest, no valid driver's license and no valid vehicle registration.

Voting on school cuts

current school administrators have an insufficient workload—particularly in view of continuing enrollment declines and the utilization of fewer attendance centers.

An opposite viewpoint on the board is that the administrative staff already has been cut sharply in recent years and that further reductions would harm the caliber and diversity of instructional programs.

Last month's actions will merge personnel and employee relations responsibilities in one position, and custodial supervision and the maintenance of buildings and grounds in another job.

The post of assistant to the superintendent (insurance programs and federal grants) and the position of pupil personnel services administrator were phased out in previous years with retirements.

SPECIAL EDUCATION is administered partly through a separate program encompassing the Granite City, Madison and Venice school districts.

Aside from principals and assistant principals, remaining School District Nine supervisory posts include superintendent, assistant superintendent, finance director, elementary education (curriculum and operations) administrator, secondary education (curriculum and operations) administrator, vocational-career education administrator.

Also, data processing director, physical education-athletics director, Chapter I (federal neighborhood program) coordinator, accounting services supervisor, insurance services coordinator and food services director.

Chapter I overall supervision and gifted program coordination are being provided by the elementary administrator.

Some of the latter's curriculum responsibilities and some of the pupil personnel duties are being handled by the secondary administrator.

Wrong license numbers cause massive mixup

An honest error by a police officer that went unnoticed through several departments resulted in the erroneous revocation of the driver's license of a Mitchell man when the man's son was the one whose license should apparently have been suspended.

Florentino Cuevas, 53, of 519 Fleming Place, Mitchell, was startled to read in the Press-Record that the office of Secretary of State Jim Edgar had suspended his driver's license for six months for his alleged failure to submit to a breath test. He protested that he had not been arrested Oct. 2, 1983, as alleged. Cuevas was correct.

An investigtion by the Press-Record showed that his son, Roberto Cuevas, had been arrested on that date on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and charged with driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs and improper lane usage.

Somehow, however, the DUI ticket on Roberto Cuevas carried his father's driver's license number. According to Sam Smith, public information officer for SIUE, the campus police believe the officer obtained the driver's license number from the state computer and apparently got the wrong one. "It was an honest error. The odd part is that it was not caught anywhere up the line," Smith said.

The ticket went to the office of Madison County Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell, which then issued the document asking Edgar's office to revoke the license. Portell's office passed on the driver's license number on the ticket to the secretary of state's office without noticing that the 1930 year of birth coded into the license number could not have been the year of birth of the younger Cuevas.

At the secretary of state's office, a routine check is run before the license is revoked. The driver's license number was run on the computer, and came up with the same last name and the same address and authority was given to revoke the father's license, according to Gene Pickinpaugh of Edgar's office. "We simply acted on what the court sent us," he added.

Revocations and suspensions for DUI convictions and implied consent (refusal to take a breath test) are mailed weekly to the Press-Record by Edgar's office. The computer printout was received and published, showing that Florentino Cuevas' license had been suspended for implied consent.

Since the Press-Record began its investigation, the secretary of state's office has issued apologies to Florentino Cuevas and his employer and has acted to reinstate his driver's license and revoke Roberto's license, Pickinpaugh said.

SIUE also issued a statement, saying, "We owe the father an apology and we are sorry about it." The Press-Record also apologizes for publishing the inaccurate information.

Q: Do bank credit card operations have a means of transferring money quickly from one city to another? We came upon a problem recently involving the necessity of getting cash to our son who is in the armed forces quickly, and mailing the money was just too slow.
A. Bank credit cards, as such, do not provide a means of quick cash transfers. However, your major bank credit card, in conjunction with Western Union may provide the speed and safety you're looking for, in addition to some convenience. If you have a major bank credit card, a call to Western Union can send a money order of up to $1,000 to more than 8,000 paying points around the country. The Western Union operator can tell you the location of the agency nearest the person to whom you would like to send the cash, and many of these offices are open 24-hours a day. Such money orders are usually available for pick-up within two hours of your call. Western Union money orders are highly negotiable, and the receipient should have not trouble cashing it.

Evaluate impact on GC pupils

It is being said in official discussions that the Granite City School Board tomorrow night or in February or March may chop away perhaps a fourth of the administrators, effective in June. We would prefer more careful study before a move of this magnitude, even though the district has a multi-million-dollar debt which it needs to retire.

If the board does any new trimming at all, it might as well own up to the fact that it will be getting rid of key parts of its educational programs. (The president said in a speech last month that some programs are in jeopardy.) The impact on local youngsters of each and every cut ought to be evaluated more comprehensively than it has been, or that it can be by tomorrow night.

Some people in this community think the previous board was wrong in spending beyond its means and in closing six schools simultaneously. Such people cite voters' reaction in November 1983 and say the public wants further big cuts—some aimed at administrators.

No personal or political retribution is planned, board members assert. We agree that the right goal is the best management of the dwindling resources. This is not always achieved by striking hardest at the administrative level; some "savings" voted in the next few days or weeks could prove to be penny wise and pound foolish.

Unrefuted statements say that the administrative staff has not been asked for a substantive recommendation. Some predict it would be defensive and self-protective. This pre-judging seems wrong; we would like to hear what the administrators have to say and recommend.

We would like to sketch a bit of the history: The board and administration a year ago exhaustively reviewed varied ways of cutting costs without harming the "product"—children's educational opportunities.

Last spring's motives are sometimes challenged and derided. But whatever the motivation, the fact is that thousands of day, night and weekend hours were devoted to a concept (obviously one that did not sufficiently please the voting public). That concept was to put programs uppermost, at the sacrifice of some buildings and some employees. The goal that was brought into focus last summer was a break-even 1983-84 and debt retirement starting in 1984-85.

To its credit, the current board has not altered that objective.

It is our task to mirror governmental action, not to shape it. We are not the enemy of change or of any public official. From time to time, based on eight decades of observing the Quad-City area as it has evolved, this newspaper has felt a duty to make recommendations, and does so today. The hope is not for blind adherence to our thoughts, but active citizen interest in an issue, regardless of the eventual outcome.

Just as School District Nine found that past enrollment declines did not automatically reduce costs, it will find that preservation of existing programs will not bring easy savings, even with a fewer number of administrators, teachers, support personnel, pupils and schools.

If the intent is to dismantle a fourth of the administration, there is no way the present range of programs can be kept, and kept healthy. They cannot flourish without guidance.

There have been mistakes by educators. There has been wasted time, but any belief that this was predominant is, we believe, incorrect.

A minute's time here and there to think and plan ahead is not a sin. Vacation days spent Christmas shopping are hard to defend when an individual is never asked why he was away from his duties or whether he had worked compensating time.

A Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co. study and a related Providence Marketing & Management study cost taxpayers, in one sense, but enabled the school district to save more than $600,000 yearly. There will be no such study of administrative procedures, however, at this time.

Without asking the administration's opinion or seeking a professional study, some on the board (with positive intent and with differing individual reasons and rationales) indicate readiness to wield a cost-trimming axe confidently and in good conscience.

When the late Superintendent Paul Grigsby and the late Assistant Superintendent Russell Johnson were targeted on a past occasion, citizens filled the auditorium and had a chance to speak their piece in advance. (Mr. Grigsby survived a 4-3 vote and took a college job a few months later; Mr. Johnson survived a period of disfavor in the minds of some members and later advanced to the superintendency.)

The next "heads to roll" may be discussed in a long executive session and then publicly designated by a divided vote before only a few persons in a cold, post-midnight morning.

Church school fuss alarming

We should all be watching the church versus state battle underway in Nebraska, but it has not been receiving the national attention it perhaps deserves. oeserves.

Seven fathers have been jailed and their families made fugitives for the crime of sending their children to a Christian school of their choice. Nebraska District Court Judge Ronald Reagan (no relation) has jailed the fathers indefinitely for refusing to answer whether they are continuing to send their children to an unlicensed church school.

Some news reports have said the state has been padlocking the church school buildings in Lincoln, Neb., refusing to allow them to open even for prayer meetings.

Some media blame the teachers' unions for the problem, saying that the Christian school children are needed in the shrinking public schools if the teachers are to keep their jobs.

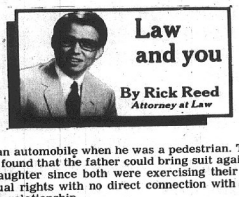

Nebraska legislators justify their attacks on the church schools by saying they are just trying to enforce educational standards. News reports contend the students in the Christian schools in Nebraska score higher on standardized tests than public school students.

Pastors operating non-approved schools have been fined and even thrown into jail.

The whole issue deserves watching. If the separation of church and state can be so rudely abused, we wonder what institutions are safe. State licensing carries the power to refuse to license and, thus, to control. If state licensing and control of church-operated schools withstands Supreme Court testing, perhaps state licensing and control of the press will be tried next.

This is still America, the land of religious freedom.

Courts protect the family unit

The doctrine of parental immunity stands for the proposition that a parent or child cannot sue each other for acts of ordinary negligence. The Illinois courts have adopted this doctrine in most situations for two reasons.

First, as a matter of public policy, the courts are interested in maintaining harmony and avoiding strife within the family unit. Certainly, if parents or children could bring suit against each other as a routine matter, this would lead to a disruption of family life.

Secondly, the Illinois courts have maintained this doctrine in order to prevent the courts from becoming involved in endless litigation involving everyday family conduct and thereby overburdening the court system. It should be noted, however, that there are certain situations where parents and children are allowed to bring a lawsuit against each other.

One exception to the parental immunity rule involves cases where the injury is inflicted by either the parent or the child through reckless, intentional or criminal conduct. In other words, in a case where a parent intentionally injures his child, the child will be allowed to bring a civil suit against the parent in an attempt to recover money damages.

The rationale of the courts in these cases is that family harmony and tranquility in the home has already become eroded, and therefore there is no reason to prevent parents and children from suing each other.

The courts have also found that parents and children can sue each other when the negligent acts of either have no direct connection with the family relationship. In one case, the father brought a lawsuit against his 17-year-old daughter for injuries he sustained when she accidentally ran into him with an automobile when he was a pedestrian. The court found that the father could bring suit against his daughter since both were exercising their individual rights with no direct connection with the family relationship.

In another case, a mother failed to trim trees between her property line and the edge of the street. As a result of her negligence, the driver of an automobile had his view obstructed and his car hit the woman's child. The guardian of the child brought a lawsuit against the mother for negligence in failing to trim the trees. The court found here that the mother's duty to trim the trees was one owed primarily to the public at large and not exclusively to the family members. Therefore, the court concluded that the child could bring suit against her mother since the injury did not arise out of the family relationship.

In conclusion, it should be noted that the primary motive of family members in most cases of this sort is to collect from liability insurance. Normally, there is no real animosity between the parent and child in this type of lawsuit, but the Courts in Illinois have nevertheless refused to abolish this doctrine totally.

With the recent breakup of Bell Telephone into subsidiaries governed by AT&T, Quad-Citians shopping at Crossroad's Plaza Sunday were asked if they thought the diversification was justified, if their service would suffer as a result of the breakup and whether they expected to pay more. Their reactions follow:

Charlie McKinnon, Granite City

"As of yet, I can't tell any difference between the two. We've received just one bill and it was about the same. We have, however, decided to buy our phone instead of leasing it. They called Bell a monopoly and breaking it up would make it better. I don't see how. You could call anywhere in the world at any time. That's pretty hard to improve upon."

Leoma Macek, Granite City

"I think telephone service will cost more since the breakup. Monopolies aren't supposed to be good for consumers, but it's hard to see how we'll be better off now (with the breakup). Anytime there's a breakup of a company, you can expect things to be more costly. As for our phones, I think we'll eventually purchase them."

Betty Cavaness, Granite City

"I think things (service, costs) will stay about the same. Maybe they'll go up a little. I eventually plan to purchase the phones we have in our home."

Sarah Dansberry, East St. Louis

"I think it was justified breaking up the telephone company. But, I do think rates will go up because of it. I bought two phones already and expect to buy two more."

Parent felt Follies not in good taste

To the Editor,

I write this letter after having attended a presentation by the Granite City High School Speech Department called the Fall Follies.

We were told prior to the performance that many of the youngsters we would be seeing on stage were performing for the first time before a large audience, that we should overlook their unpolished performances. I would have thought some of these kids were right off the burlesque stage with some of the material they presented!

If my daughter had been one of these kids in some if the skits, I think I would have been sorely tempted to go down and take her from the stage . I realize that perhaps these skits were written by the students, themselves, but where were the teachers in the censorship of them? My, such blatant lack of guidance.

I found myself embarrassed — not so much for myself, as for the parents of the kids who were being allowed to do and say such things on a public stage, in the name of a "speech presentation." There were grandparents in the audience who had come to see their grandchildren perform and, I wonder how they must have felt watching such "garbage," whether or not their grandchildren were a part of it. Oh, many of the skits were very cute and proper for public presentation, but the "commercials" presented by an acting class of the high school were totally unacceptable, for the most part.

Where are the ethics once so strongly upheld in our public schools? Are our kids to be allowed to do and say whatever they please, or is there someone out there somewhere who cares enough to try to change things as they are today? I feel good in raising my voice against what I feel was a personal affront to all parents and grandparents who have tried to raise their children "in the fear and admonition of the Lord."

Do not print my name, please, since I would not want my daughter to be "put down" because of my letter.

Foster homes can provide a 'gift of love'

To the Editor:

Imagine, it's a frigid cold day in December. There's no heat in your home, no food, and no one to turn to for help.

That's the situation many youngsters have found themselves in recent weeks because, due to the high cost of utilities and unemployment, their families have had their utilities cut off. So what happens to these children? Where do they go? Many are placed in a temporary home situation such as foster care.

The Illinois Department of Children and Family Services is in great need of more foster homes in the Madison County area. In the month of December alone, 33 children have come into care due to the extremely cold weather or because of neglect or abuse. Foster care is a temporary home until a more permanent plan can be made for a child.

Foster parents are assisted financially by the state to help cover housing, utilities, food, clothing, medical and other expenses for children in their care.

Foster parents may choose the age range and number of children they would like to provide care for. Due to the fact that the children are confused and afraid when they come into care, foster parents need to be willing to adapt to a variety of situations and children.

To be eligible as foster parents, you must be at least 21 years old, have adequate income and space to meet the needs of an additional child in your care. Foster parents also are required to attend four pre-service training sessions, submit to a criminal background check and provide current medical information along with three references.

If you would like to share a gift of love and have patience and understanding to share, please call for more information on how you can become licensed foster parents. Call Pat Stallion at 876-8985 or Linda at 1-462-3578.

Four Injured on Rt. 3 at Pontoon

Two drivers and their passengers were injured at 8:15 p.m. Saturday in a collision involving three vehicles on Illinois Route 3 at West Pontoon Road.

Kimberly A. Ebersoldt, 16, of 25 Meadowlark Court, and a passenger in the auto she was driving, Angela L. Novosel, 16, of Rural Route Two, Box 1183, sustained injuries and were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Miss Ebersoldt, who was believed to be seriously hurt in the crash, later was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, a family friend reported.

Also taken to the medical center via a Granite City police vehicle were John A. Allen, 22, of St. Louis, and a passenger in his pickup truck, Michael D. Futhey, 21, also of St. Louis.

According to reports, Allen's pickup was northbound on Route 3 when Miss Ebersoldt's auto crossed the highway eastbound from Schaefer Road toward West Pontoon Road.

Allen told officers that he swerved to the right in an effort to avoid the collision, but was unable to do so.

The impact spun Allen's pickup around, causing it to strike the front of a third vehicle operated by Janice M. Whitford, 29, of 2810 W. 22nd St.

Resolution enshrines memory of Capt. Lucas

A resolution enshrining the memory of Capt. Keith J. Lucas has been approved by the Illinois Senate, with concurrence of the Illinois House of Representatives.

Capt. Lucas, a Granite Cityan, was killed in action during the assault on the island of Grenada Oct. 25, 1983. He was posthumously awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Purple Heart for successfully flying 12 U.S. Army Rangers in a Black Hawk UH-60 helicopter under heavy enemy fire and enabling them to disembark from the damaged aircraft on the island, despite Capt. Lucas having received mortal wounds.

Capt. Lucas was a member of the 158th Aviation Battalion, Special Operations, 160th Task Force, 101st Airborne Division and was a member of a special unit, the Night Stalkers, formed to handle crisis after the Iranian hostage situation, the resolution, introduced by U.S. Sen Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) says.

It adds, "Whereas, in these troubled times, as the spectre of war and conflict has spread to several different areas of the globe, we too, as a freedom-loving people, must pause as the inheriters of liberty and remember those individuals like Capt. Keith Lucas who have paid so dearly to help maintain that precious and fragile peace that we and the rest of the free world enjoy today.

"Therefore, be it resolved by the Senate of the 83rd General Assembly of the state of Illinois, the House of Representatives concurring herein, that we enshrine in our hearts and minds the memory of Capt. Keith J. Lucas, who shed his blood for peace so that he might help prevent the tragedy of war; that we join Keith's many friends who mourn his passing; and that to his bereaved family, we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

"Resolved that a suitable copy of this preamble and resolution be presented to his widow, Paula Lucas, as a formal indication of our mutually shared sense of loss."

64-year-olds eligible for tax reductions

Effective Jan. 1, 1984, the senior citizen Homestead Act was amended to read that residents 64 years-of-age or older may now apply for reductions of $2,000 from the assessed value of their real estate. Formerly, residents had to be 65 before they could apply for these special exemptions.

In order to make a new or renewal application for the Homestead Exemption, those elegible must file the proper form with their township assessor. This form could be a written document evidencing that they are the owner of record, or that they have legal or equitable interest in the property for which the exemption is sought.

Examples of these written documents are a warranty deed, trustee's deed, quit claim deed, contract for deed, title guarantee policy, a will or an affadavit of inheritance.

The application for the exemption must be made with the assessor's office yearly. However, it is not necessary to present one's deed or other written instrument after the first application.

Persons renewing their application may request that their form be mailed to them. This renewal form does not need to be notarized.

"I think this new law is going to benefit the people," said Joann Macios, deputy assessor for Nameoki Township. "Now seniors will be getting their benefits one year sooner, which is great for them, because they are on a fixed income."

Sheriff sends deputy to bail out son of baseball manager

The Edwardsville Intelligencer Friday took Madison County Sheriff Emil Toffant of Madison to task for sending an on-duty sheriff's deputy to St. Clair County Dec. 30 to bail out the son of one of Toffant's friends.

In an interview with the newspaper, Toffant said Lee Thomas, director of player personnel for the St. Louis Cardinals baseball team, called the sheriff and asked for his assistance in getting Thomas' son, Daryl James Thomas, 21, out of the St. Clair County Jail where he was taken after a tavern scuffle in Belleville.

Toffant said he called his department, found it was a slow night and asked that a deputy be sent with the $100 bond to get the boy and take him to Busch Stadium in St. Louis where his father would reimburse the deputy for the bond.

"If it had been busy (at the sheriff's department)...I would have gone myself," the Intelligencer quotes Toffant. He admitted he did not check to see if it was legal to send a deputy out of the county and out of state on such an errand. "I wouldn't have done it if it had been illegal. I've never even fixed a traffic ticket and I'm not about to start now," the sheriff is quoted as saying.

CHARGED IN WARRANTS HELD BY GC AND COUNTY

Charles J. Ringling Jr., 27, of St. Louis, was arrested at East 23rd Street and Route 162 at 1:05 a.m. Saturday on a Granite City warrant alleging failing to appear in court on a criminal damage to property charge.

While in custody, it was verified that two active warrants for Ringling's arrest also were held by the Madison County Sheriff's Department. He was released to a sheriff's deputy for transfer to Edwardsville at 2 a.m. Saturday.

GC WARRANT IS SERVED

Retha F. Owings, 32, of 1729 Edison Ave., was arrested at police headquarters last week on a warrant alleging failure to appear in court on a charge of criminal damage to property. She was released after posting a cash bond.

Win First Home Game

Warriors whip superstition, Shells; win 78-74

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Despite the fact that it was Friday the 13th, the Granite City Warrior basketball team had a stroke of good luck Friday night. The Warriors posted their first home victory of the season, a 78-74 win over the Roxana Shells.

The Warriors, who had led by 18 points at halftime, had to come back in the final seconds of the game to defeat the Shells.

"We really established ourselves in the first half," stated Warrior Coach Don Deterding.

The Warriors hit 13 out of 14 shots in the first quarter and were 23-31 in the first half.

"That's not bad shooting," said Deterding. "I'll take that anytime."

The Warriors got the opening tip off and took the ball down for the first two points of the game. However, Roxana came right back to tie the score.

Sinking baskets from inside and outside, the Warriors began to build their lead. With four minutes left in the first quarter, the Warriors already led 14-8. Roxana added one more basket before the Warriors started another scoring spree.

Roxana called a time out to try to put a stop to the Warriors who had scored eight straight points to increase their lead to 22-10. The time out did them little good, however, as Kurt Hylla stole the ball on the first play after the break and took it down to score. Hylla led the Warriors with 10 points in the first quarter.

The Warriors continued to dominate and lead after the first quarter 28-14.

Granite City's only misfortune of the evening was foul trouble. Scott Cant, the Warrior center, already had three fouls by the end of the first quarter.

Jeff Gray, the Warrior's leading scorer this season, got hot in the second quarter. Gray added 14 of his 32 points during this time to help give the Warriors an 18-point lead at half time. Gray shot a perfect 100 percent from the field in the first half, making ten out of ten shots.

Things were going great for the Warriors in the second half. With 4:39 left in the third quarter the Warriors led by 21 points. Then trouble began for the Granite City team.

Cant, who had been in foul trouble throughout the game, fouled out with 3:25 left in the third quarter.

Sloppy passes and poor defense began to plague the Warriors. The Shells used this to their advantage as they pulled to within nine at the end of the third quarter, 64-55.

The Warriors were outscored 22-13 in the third quarter.

"We have to learn to play with a lead," said Deterding. "These kids have never had an 18-point halftime lead. They aren't accustomed to it.

"We did some things right. Unfortunately, we didn't do a whole bunch of them."

Things went from bad to worse for the Warriors in the fourth quarter. Roxana opened the quarter with four points to pull within five at 64-59.

Missed shots by the Warriors allowed Roxana to stay in the game. With three minutes left in the game the Shells had narrowed the Warrior lead to only one point, 73-72.

It looked as if it was all over for the Warriors when Gary Apperson fouled Roxana's Tim Dildine. Luckily for the Warriors, Dildine missed his free throw. He also became so frustrated he fouled Warrior Art Williams. Dildine was also charged with a technical foul.

Williams missed his free throw but Jeff Gray sank the technical shot to put the Warriors up by two, 74-72.

Gray added two more points to increase the Warrior lead to four points. However, Roxana refused to give up and pulled the score back to within two, 76-74. Joe Gray iced the game for the Warriors by sinking two free throws.

"We have to learn to play with a lead. These kids have never had an 18-point lead. They aren't accustomed to it."

Don Deterding
Warrior basketball coach

Although the Warriors were outscored 41-27 in the second half they were able to hold on to win.

"We won playing our type of game," stated Coach Deterding.

"The pressure was really on us in the second half. I have to give the kids alot of credit for coming back," he added.

"We have to learn to get the ball to the hot hitter. We also have to learn to play with mistakes."

"All night long I was disappointed in our defense. Thirty-three points in the first half was too many (to give up on defense)," Deterding said.

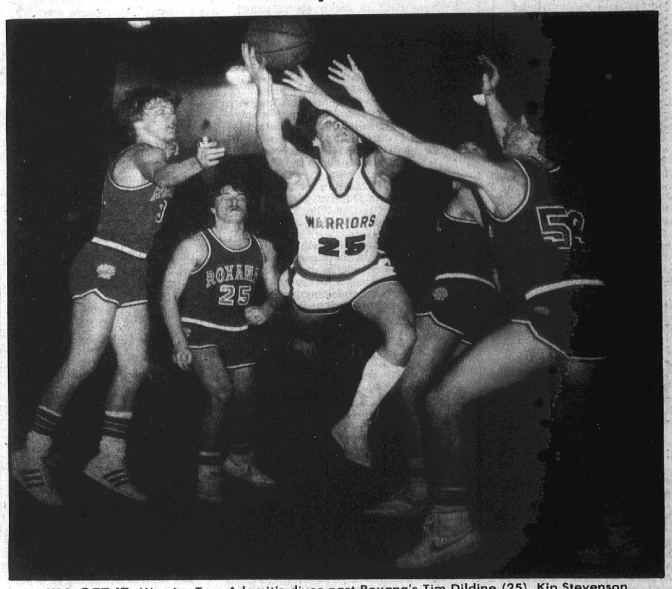

The win makes the Warrior record 6-9.

Their next match is this Friday in Hillsboro. The junior varsity match will begin at 6:30 p.m.

BACK IN ACTION. Mark Dowdy of Granite City High School, who had not wrestled since he received an ankle injury Dec. 15, came back to the Warrior line-up in fine fashion Saturday. Dowdy, holding Francis Howell's Rich Scott in cradle, defeated Scott 7-2. However, the Warriors lost to the Vikings, the defending Missouri champions, 29-20.

Many Making Comeback

Grapplers on way to 'respectability'

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Slowly, the Granite City High School wrestling team is mending itself back to respectability.

The Warriors lost to Francis Howell, the defending Missouri wrestling champion, 29-20 in a dual wrestling match in Granite City Saturday. However, Warrior Coach Bill Schmitt was able to find some things to be optimistic about.

One thing was the return of Mark Dowdy to Granite City's line-up. Dowdy, who advanced farther than any other North or South wrestler at the state finals last year, had been out since Dec. 15 because of an ankle injury.

However, Dowdy returned to the mats in final style in a 7-2 victory over Francis Howell's Rich Scott. Dowdy came from behind and nearly pinned Scott in the second period of their match.

Dowdy only had four days of practice last week prior to the meet and he had volúntarily moved from his usual 155 pounds to 167.

"I though Dowdy would run out of gas in the third period, but he handled himself quite well in the heavier weight class," Schmitt said. "He was very efficient, and I thought Dowdy could have had the pin, but the other kid hung in there.

"He's a welcome addition to the line-up, and he makes us more respectable. When we get a couple of others back, we'll be back on the road to respectability by regional time," Schmitt said.

Brent McKenney, the Warriors' 126 pounder, and Lester White, their 185 pound wrestler, are still out of the line-up with various injuries.

"It will be to our advantage if we can get those two into the line-up," Schmitt said.

The Warriors picked up four other victories in the meet. At 98, Jeff Cotter increased his record to 18-2 with a 14-2 decision over Chris Lantz.

Jeff Wakeford edged Tim Sanders 11-9 in the 112 bout. Wakeford scored a critical takedown in the last minute of the match and scored a three-point near fall to win the match.

At 155, Steve Knogl took charge with a take down and a near fall in the first period and went on to defeat Larry Frazier 9-3. Heavyweight Deron Griffin won by forfeit.

"I think we're wrestling better physically than we did earlier this year," Schmitt said. "Some of the the wrestlers were impressive because they didn't looked gassed. In fact, we were causing some of their wrestlers to get gassed."

The turning point for Francis Howell was five straight wins in the 119-145 weight divisions. In all, the Vikings scored two pins, a superior decision and a major decision in the process.

"They're a very good team, but we made some of the matches close. Had we been able to avoid some of the mistakes we made, we would have made the match more respectable," Schmitt said.

The closest of the decisions the Warriors lost was at 145. Mark Malaucy edged Mark Whitaker 9-3 with a reversal and an escape in the third period.

Schmitt said a critical match for the Warriors would be next Saturday's quadranguiar meet with Roxana and Lindbergh at Hazelwood Central. Roxana is currently ranked second in the Metro-East area.

The Warriors also wrestle Parkway West on Friday.

Madison, Venice Entered

Litchfield Tourney begins today

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

When Litchfield High School officials planned this year's Litchfield Invitational Basketball Tournament, they knew they were going to have a good tournament.

However, the tournament hit the jackpot this year. Three of the teams won their holiday tournaments. Four of the teams have two or fewer losses this season.

For instance, the Madison Trojans, 10-2 this season, won the Centralia Holiday Tournament. In fact Madison was ranked as high as third in statewide Class A polls last week and the top-ranked team in the Press-Record poll.

Venice is also in the same category as the Trojans, The Red Devils, also 10-2 for the season, won the Columbia Holiday Tournament. Although the Red Devils haven't received much statewide recognition, they are ranked third in the Press-Record poll.

Taylorville is the third team sharing both categories. Taylorville, a Class AA team with a 12-1 record, won the Charleston Holiday Tournament. The Tornadoes feature 7-0 Jens (pronounced Yens) Kujawa, a West German transfer who is averaging 19.5 points and 12.5 rebounds a game.

Finally, the host Litchfield Panthers can't be taken lightly. Litchfield is 12-1 and defeated Bunker Hill to take third place at the Vandalia Holiday Tournament.

Those four teams, along with Mt. Zion, Jerseyville, Highland and Raymond-Lincolnwood, fill out the eight-team, double-elimination tournament.

Venice and Mt. Zion, 3-6, open the tournament Monday at 6:45 p.m., and Madison plays Jerseyville, 3-7, in the 8:15 p.m. game Monday.

The winners of Monday's games will meet in Wednesday's championship semifinal game at 8:15 while the losers play in a consolation semifinal game at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday.

The third place and consolation championships will be played Friday, and the championship game will be played Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Victories or losses by both Madison and Venice would place the two rivals together in one of the two semifinals. Obviously, the two teams would prefer to be in the championship bracket, but both teams could face stiff challenges in the opening round games.

Venice, which ranks with Litchfield as being the smallest teams in the tournament, goes against a tall Mt. Zion team in the first round. Mt. Zion features 6-9 Brent Kosiner, 6-6 Jeff Anderson, 6-4 Doug Allen, and 6-2 Brent Hendrick as starters. Hendrick leads Mt. Zion with 17 points a game.

"We don't have outstanding speed like Venice, but we've gone against teams with good speed, and we have given those teams some trouble," said Mt. Zion Coach Ed Neighbors.

Mt. Zion is a Class AA school with an enrollment of 840 and a member of the Apollo Conference.

Venice Coach Clinton Harris believes speed will be the key for the Red Devils in the tournament.

"Everybody is tough at this tournament, and we're going to have to play hard to beat Mt. Zion. We have to screen them out underneath and play good hustling defense like we have been. That's going to be the key, because if you can't score, your defense has to come through," Harris said.

"We're small, but we have a very good team," Harris added.

Two seniors, 5-8 Eddie Salmond and 5-10 Phillip White, are averaging near 17.5 points per game. Larry McGhee, a 5-7 guard, and Darren Wise, a 6-3 center, may have to help

Hockey Warriors rip Ritenour, 5-1

GRANITE CITY — Granite City High School Warrior club hockey team went over the .500 mark Saturday evening by posting a 5-1 victory over North Division opponent Ritenour at the Wilson Park Ice Rink.

The victory should place the Warriors securely in third place in the division with a possible bid for second place behind division leading Hazelwood East and McCluer North. Official league standings are due out later this week.

"We seem to be playing okay hockey now, like I think we're capable," said Warrior coach Garry Henson. "We had a lapse there where we gave away a couple of games because we weren't playing disciplined hockey. But now we're getting good positioning and playing fine team hockey."

Henson's improving team, which is currently 6-5-2 on the season, will face two tough opponents in crucial games later this week.

On Saturday, Jan. 21, the Warriors meet Hazelwood East at 5:15 p.m. at the Wilson Park Rink. The following two days, Sunday and Monday, the Warriors will take on Hazelwood East at the North County Ice Rink and Parkway West at Suson Park on Monday, Jan 23.

In Saturday's contest, Granite City broke on the board first when Steve Stegelmeyer slapped a shot past Ritenour goalie Rich Glover midway through the first period.

Later in the period, Todd Hinterser, padded the Warriors' lead by scoring back to back goals, eventually giving Granite City a 3-1 lead by the end of the first period.

The Warriors were shut out in the second period not because they weren't getting the shots on goal, but because of Glover's fine goaltending techniques.

Granite City iced the game in the third period when Ray Romine and Terry Wade each scored back-to-back goals in the waning minutes of the contest.

Ritenour's only score game came early in the third period when Mark Steinlake penetrated the Warrior defense, avoiding the shutout.

Beaumont bows to Madison cagers

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

MADISON — Madison High School girls' basketball coach Carol Cole hopes she isn't jumping the gun, but with two-thirds of the season still ahead she's already looking forward to post-season play.

"Right now, our goal is to go to state. I guess that's every team's goal, but realistically, I think we've got the team this year to go farther than we've ever gone before," Coach Cole said.

The Trojanettes supported Coach Cole's argument Thursday night by soundly defeating Beaumont High School of the tough St. Louis Public League 60-30, thus improving their season record to 8-9. The loss dropped Beaumont's record to 8-7 on the season.

"Our goal is to win and also beat our opponents by 20 or 30 points. I like to win big," Coach Cole said.

The Madison coach said she often uses the substantial lead to substitute and allow her team to try new offenses and defenses. "Everything we do now is in preparation for the regionals and sectionals. Everything is more sophisticated than anything we've ever done before. We've got quite a playbook.

"We want the girls to become mentally mature on the basketball court — to be able to read various defenses and to be able to react without me having to tell them to."

With Coach Cole and the Trojanettes looking down the road towards the post-season play, the possibility of a new problem arises, one that may spoil that undefeated record.

"Sure, there's always the problem of looking too far ahead, looking past someone," Cole said. "That's the kind of team Dupo is, the team we played on Tuesday. They're the kind of team that can sneak up and beat you."

But like the game with Beaumont, Dupo met with the same fate. Cole, who played college basketball at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, is emphasizing post-season play, but she keeps enough of her attention on those immediate games to prevent such a letdown.

A letdown was the farthest thing from the Trojanettes' minds Thursday evening. After a slow start during the first two minutes of the game, Madison jumped out to a 14-4 lead by the end of the first quarter. ReGina Banks finally put Madison on the board with 6:02 remaining in the first quarter and then again 16 seconds later to give Madison a 4-0 lead.

Outside shooting by Kim Stanley and passes from Stephanie Walker to Banks provided the offensive punch for Madison's first quarter scores.

Madison managed to increase its lead to 13 points, 27-14, by the end of the second quarter, but Beaumont's Levette Tolliver made things as difficult as possible for the Trojanettes.

Tolliver, a 5-foot 10-inch senior for Beaumont and the game's leading scorer with 21 points, was the biggest reason the Trojanettes didn't win by 45 instead of 30. In addition to Tolliver's scoring prowess, the lengthy senior proved an integral part of the Beaumont's defense as well.

In the third quarter, however, even Tolliver couldn't do the job. Madison, leading by 13 at the end of the second quarter, racked up 14 unanswered points to lead 41-14 before Tolliver scored Beaumont's first point of the second half.

"Outside of Levette, we're an extremely young team," said Beaumont Coach Rudy Percy. "We're looking towards a better, more mature team next year."

Beaumont managed two more field goals in the waning seconds of the third quarter — one by Ginger Strono and another by Tolliver — to close to with 21 points of Madison, 41-20.

In the fourth quarter, however, Madison began another scoring spree, ending what little hopes existed for Beaumont's comeback. Kim Stanley hit the front end of a one and one situation. Angie Shipp connected on a 10-foot jumper and Angelette Dandridge cooly sank back to back free throws and then a turn around jumper.

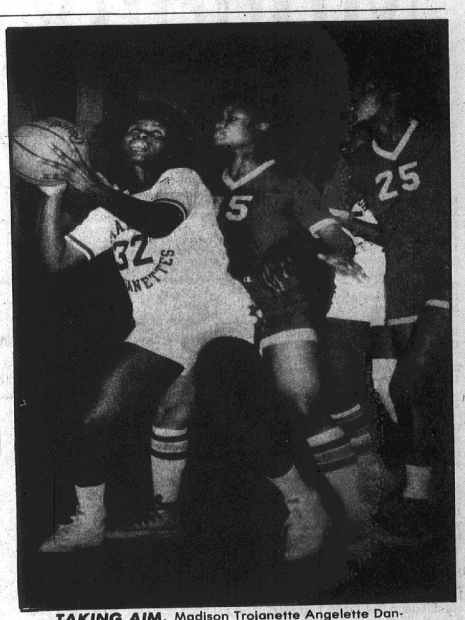

When it was over, the Trojanettes had smothered Beaumont's comeback, outscoring the opposition 19-10 in the final stanza.

The Trojanettes are idle until Wednesday when they host St. Paul of Highland. Jayvee action begins at 6 p.m.

Warriors down Lancers in overtime

By PAULA WISE
of the Press Record

BELLEVILLE — The Granite City Warrior girl's basketball team evened its record at 3-3 with an impressive 48-47 overtime win over the Lancers of Belleville East Thursday.

The Lancers opened the scoring in the first quarter, but a basket by Lisa Lilley tied the score for the Warriors. A Debbie Brandt steal set up the next basket to give the Warriors the lead 4-2.

Both teams traded baskets for the remainder of the period but the Warriors managed a lead after the first quarter, 10-7.

The Lancers scored first in the second quarter bringing them to within one point. After a Lisa Lilley's basket, the Lancers added four more points to take the lead 15-12.

Warrior Loretta Cox, a relative newcomer to the starting lineup, got her team rolling again scoring five straight points to give the Warriors back the lead 17-15.

After a Lancer basket, Lilley added two points for the Warriors to make the half-time score 19-17.

The Warriors began the second half without the services of their center Loretta Cox who had been placed on the bench with four fouls.

"Loretta needs maturity," stated Warrior Coach Gordan Galbreath. "She was letting the big girls get in front of her early and got into foul trouble. She came back at the end and started getting position. Then they started fouling her."

Belleville East opened the second half with four straight points to take the lead 21-19. The Lancers had increased their lead to 25-22 before the Warriors woke up from their half-time break.

Twelve unanswered points by the Warriors shot them into the lead 34-25. Each team added another basket before the end of the quarter making the score 36-27 after three periods.

During the third quarter the Warrior press had forced several turnovers.

"We are alternating the 3-1-1 and the 1-2-2 presses. This seems to confuse the other team. It doesn't trap the other team too often, but it usually causes some turnovers," Galbreath said.

The Lancers took charge in the fourth quarter.

They opened the period with six straight points to pull within three points of the Warriors, 36-33.

After free throws by Lilley and Brandt, the Lancers added four more points to take the lead 40-38. A basket by Brandt with 3 minutes left in the game tied the score at 40.

Each team scored once more to make the final score 42 all, sending the game into overtime.

East got the tip in the over-time period but strong defense by the Warriors forced a five-second violation call against the Lancers.

The rest of the period proved to be a battle of the free throws. Nancy McClew hit the first two for the Warriors making the score 44-42.

The Lancers scored the next three points to regain their lead 45-44.

Lilley put in a basket for the Warriors, but on the next play of the game fouled Belleville's Fahey to send her to the free throw line. Fahey sank both throws to put her team back on top 47-46.

With three seconds left in the game Lilley redeemed herself. She sank two more free throws to give the Warriors a one-point victory.

"We're coming along. The girls are making fewer mistakes. The girls are fighting harder inside," Galbreath said.

"They used to let the big girls just shove them around. I think Loretta (Cox) takes the pressure off some of the smaller girls who have to play underneath," he added.

Pioneers discover depthy Devils

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

VENICE — Many people think the Venice basketball team is nothing but Eddie Salmond and Phillip White.

It's easy to assume that since those two are the only two Red Devils averaging in double figures, both averaging in the 17.5 points a game range. East St. Louis Assumption found out the hard way that's not true.

Although Salmond and White both scored 18 points to lead Venice to a 74-66 victory over Assumption, it was Larry McGhee who did as much damage as anyone.

McGhee, the Red Devils' 5-7 point guard, scored 16 points against the Pioneers, well above his season average. Salmond and White did their thing from outside and inside, but McGhee added another dimension with his outside shooting.

"We really underestimated a couple of Venice players, their point guard and their center (Darren Wise)," said Assumption Coach Greg King. "We didn't think McGhee could shoot as well as he did from outside, and I didn't think Wise could drive inside like he did."

McGhee, a senior, had been afraid to shoot the ball and preferred to pass to Salmond or White, according to Venice Coach Clinton Harris. However, Harris gave McGee the green light to shoot when he had the shot.

"McGhee is a good shooter, but his problem was that he didn't want to shoot, even when he had the shot. I told him I had all the confidence in the world in him and his shot. In fact, I have the confidence in all our players to shoot the ball," Harris said.

Venice, leading by eight at halftime, suddenly found Salmond and White as cold as ice. Although Assumption cut the lead by five by the end of the third quarter, McGhee kept the Red Devils from falling behind with three 20-foot jumpers, including one with 10 seconds left in the quarter.

White scored two points and Salmond was held scoreless in the thrid quarter.

McGhee helped to keep the coals hot for the fourth quarter when Salmond and White got hot again. Venice went ahead by 12 with five minutes left in the game and forced Assumption to foul to make a comeback try.

However, Venice made nine of 12 free throw attempts in the final three and a half minutes of the game to prevent Assumption from getting any closer than eight points.

"Our problem this season is that we can't play consistent," King said. "We play five good minutes then we play five bad minutes of basketball. I don't know why we do that."

One reason why Assumption couldn't do it Friday was because its leading scorer, Clift Yancy, was held to seven points. Venice's "helping" man-to-man defense made sure Yancy couldn't penetrate into his range to make his deadly jump shots.

Yancy had been hitting over 70 percent of his attempts from the field this season.

"They just shut Yancy down, and we couldn't make up for it," King said. "(John) Moody and (Antonie) Liddell tried to shoot to make up for it, but they missed some shots that they usually could make."

Despite the misses, Moody scored 19 points to lead all scorers, and Liddell put in 12 points. John Dozier added 10 points off the bench for Assumption.

"We played our man-to-man very well. It was a good team effort that shut Yancy down," Harris said.

Also, the Assumption defense was failing. The Pioneers picked up Salmond the very moment Venice got the ball. Still, they couldn't stop the Red Devils' running game.

"They were picking up Eddie all over the court leaving Larry wide open. Larry opened up and started shooting, and pretty soon, Eddie and Phillip started getting open," Harris said.

The win left Venice with a 10-2 record going into the Litchfield Invitational Tournament. Although Venice's record is the same as Madison's, the Red Devils haven't received the same respect as the Trojans.

And that's fine with Harris.

"We want people to take us lightly," Harris said. "It doesn't matter what we're rated because rankings don't mean anything during the season. It's what you do in the regionals and beyond that matters. We want to play every game one game at a time."

The second tournament, for freshmen, will be played the following week, Jan. 23, 25 and 26.

Both are eight-team tournaments.

Competing in the sophomore tournament are Roxana, East St. Louis Assumption, Madison, Wood River, Belleville West, Venice and naturally, Granite City. Both Grnaite City High's Memorial Gymnasium and Grigsby Junior High Gymnasium will be utilized during the tournaments.

In the first pairing of the sophomore tourney, Granite City will meet Roxana at GCHS while Madison and Wood River will clash at Grigsby in game three. Both games start at 6 p.m.

At 7:30 p.m. at GCHS, Assumption will meet Edwardsville in game two while Belleville West meets Venice in game four at Grigsby.

In Tuesday's second round, the winners of Monday's first round action will meet at Granite City High School at 6 and 7:30 p.m. while the losers will meet at Grigsby at 6:45 and 8:15 p.m.

On Thursday, the final day of the tournament, those teams which thus far are winless will vie for third place at 6:30 p.m. at Granite City High's gymnasium, while the championship game between the two undefeated teams is slated for 7:30 p.m.

The Warriors' sophomore coach is Lenny Lybarger.

The freshman tournament the following week will be run in a similar manner.

In game No. 1, Granite City will meet Collinsville at 6 p.m. while Belleville East faces Roxana at 7:30 p.m. in the second game. Both of those games will be played at Granite City High.

Other first round games, at Grigsby, include Belleville Althoff squaring off against Wood River in game three and St. Louis University High against Edwardsville in the fourth matchup. Those games follow the same time schedule.

Second-round pairings at GCHS on Wednesday will pit the winners of games one and two against each other and the winners of games three and four against each other.

Second round games at Grigsby will pit the losers of games one and two and the losers of three and four. Those games will also follow the 6 and 7:30 p.m. time schedule.

Thursday's tournament schedule at GCHS will include the third place game at 6 p.m. with the championship game at 7:30 p.m.

The seventh place game at Grigsby is slated for 6:45 p.m. while the consolation championship is slated for 8:15 p.m.

Bryan Wilkinson is the Warriors' freshman coach. Admission for both tournaments is $1.

Salmond and White with some of the scoring.

Meanwhile, Madsion will meet a physical and high-rebounding Jerseyville team. Although the Panthers have a losing record, they stayed close to most of their opponents.

"We've outboarded every team this year but one, but we have some problems with turnovers," Jerseyville Coach Ed Test said. "We feel playing Madison will be a big challenge for us, and we welcome the challenge to play one of the best teams in the area."

Jerseyville may not have the service of leading scorer Jim Davis Monday because of the flu. The Panthers feature a balanced scoring attack.

Michael Young and Reggie Banks, averging approximately 13 points a game to lead the Trojans. Victor Valentine leads the area in assists with 58, and Valentine, Young and DeLoyd Williams have a total of 82 steals this season.

"We usually play the first game of a tournament sluggish, and we have to be ready for that," said Madison Coach Larry Graham.

"I knew this was going to be a good tournament when we got in it, but it's going to be one of the best January tournaments in the state this year," Graham said.

Taylorville is more than Kujawa. John Emery, a 5-10 guard, Pat Lane a 6-4 forward and Joe Chanley, a 6-4 guard, are the other key players.

"We're the favorite, but it's hard to argue that because Madison won a tough tournament," said Taylorville Coach Lee Emery.

Litchfield is led by 6-0 forward Brian Horst, who is averaging 25 points and nine rebounds per game. Horst has been starting since his freshman year.

"We play very well as a team," Litchfield Coach Don Gursh said. "Our tallest starter is 6-1, but our defense has been amazing. We're giving up only 50 points a game."

Litchfield High School is located on 1719 N. State Street, several blocks north of Ill. Route 16, which runs through downtown Litchfield.

Sports of all Sorts

Old foes now friends

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

Two of the most highly respected high school basketball coaches in Southwestern Illinois until their retirements several years back are Vergil Fletcher of Collinsville and Louis (Pick) Dehner of East St. Louis.

Now, after bitterly battling each other through the years on the hardwood court, they are now, and have been for many years, working together ... at Fairmount Park race track south of Collinsville at the paramutuel windows, selling tickets.

Old Fletcher enjoyed an overwhelming lead in the series of games his Kahoks played with Dehner's Flyers. But, the games were always close and bitterly fought.

So, why this story about Fletcher and Dehner?

Nothing really, except both of them were outstanding coaches of at least one other sport: Fletcher in football and Dehner in baseball. In fact, Old Pick, the former All-American at the University of Illinois, even coached football at East St. Louis when he filled in for the legendary Wirt Downing, out with a foot injury.

For those fans hereabout (Granite City, etc.), you'll be happy to have recalled for you that Coach Dehner during the season he coached one game of football at East St. Louis, he had the uniqued experience of seeing his gridders blow a 56-point lead up at Moline, Ill., and then finally lose in the game's last second on a field goal.

Fletcher's billiant record with his basketeers has been well recorded, but what few fans then and now realize was what a tremendous job he did for Collinsville in football.

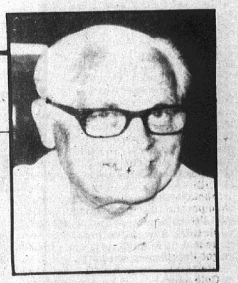

First off, Collinsville had the smallest, except perhaps Edwardsville once in awhile, student body in this part of the state. And, yet Fletcher consistently had his Kahok gridders in nearly all their games.

As in basketball, Fletcher had something extra going for him when the Kahok gridders took the field ... that almost all-consuming, burning Collinsville town spirit. Collinsville fans are, if nothing else, and 200 percent for their athletic teams.

In addition, Fletcher, who always stressed fundmentals in both basketball and football, drilled his boys in the basics. And, that's what carried the Collinsville football teams. They rarely, if ever, beat themselves.

Dehner, whose turnaround jump shot just in front of the basket as an undergraduate at the University of Illinois earned him All-American honors, forced the rules makers to install the three-second rule. He would plant himself right in front of the basket and his teammates would lob the ball into him and he rarely, if ever missed.

But, Dehner's sport he really loved to coach was basball. And, his Flyer teams were feared on the diamond throughout all his career at East St. Louis.

But, now as Dehner enjoys his retirement, his favorite sport now ... as a player ... is tennis. And, as one who saw him play in high school, at Lincoln, Ill., if Pick had concentrated on his tennis, I'll guarantee you that he would have been one of the World's best players.

For, you see, like most athletes, Dehner was lazy and was way ahead of the game of tennis later stars: he was the first player I ever saw who used the big serve and followed it in and put the point away.

Because, you see, he was lazy. He could never see the sense of standing on the back line and dueling with his opponents although he was a great back line stroker.

So, next spring and summer, when you take time out to go see the bangtails run at Fairmount Park, keep an eye out for Fletch and Pick at the betting windows.

They'll be glad to see you.

Cage game to benefit Dymas family

Members of the Madison School Board have designated the basketball game between Madison High School and Metro-East Lutheran High School on Saturday, Jan. 28, as a benefit game for the Sam Dymas family.

The junior varsity game will start at 6:15 p.m. and the varsity game will be played at 8 p.m. No tickets will be available at the door, so all tickets must be purchased in advance.

Superintendant of Schools John Palcheff said that although all tickets will be sold on a donation basis, persons will be asked to contribute at least the regular price of the ticket, which is $1 for students and $2 for adults.

Palcheff said that the proceeds of the game, minus expenses, will go to the family of the late Sam Dymas, who died late in November. Mr. Dymas is survived by his wife, Pam, and daughter, Holly Ann.

YMCA begins co-ed volleyball

Co-ed Volleyball leagues will begin play the fourth week in January. The Tri-City YMCA will sponsor two volleyball leagues this spring.

The leagues will be split according to skill level, with advanced skill players playing on Tuesday evenings and players with beginner skill levels playing on Saturday evenings.

A team will pay $16 per player with a maximum of 12 and a minimum of 6 players allowed on a team's roster. Individuals who have annual YMCA (Tri-City Area "Y") memberships will need not pay, but must be included in the 12 player roster.

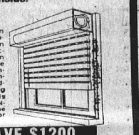

Each team should have a representative at the rules meeting. The representative should pay the team's fees, have information of each player for rosters (name, address, phone no., age), or make a deposit to secure a spot for the team, the night of the rules meeting.

For more information contact the Tri-City Area YMCA at 876-7200.

NOW will meet Thursday night

The Tri-Cities Chapter of the National Organization for Women (NOW) will conduct its first meeting of the year at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Nameoki Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road.

On the agenda is a history of NOW and a discussion of its victories in the courts and the legislature. Liz Neeley, chapter president, said, "We want the community to know that we are an organization which wants to make it possible for every human being to reach his or her fullest potential in this society. But, at the same time, we want to hear about the concerns of the community and the issues they are interested in."

The Tri-Cities Chapter has been working on the problems of child support enforcement during the past year and hopes to continue to do so, but wants to expand its agenda to include other issues, she said.

Additional information on the NOW chapter may be obtained by calling 344-5576 or 1-656-8149.

Suspicious fire damages dwelling

An investigation is continuing today into the origin of a fire which destroyed the home of Sherry Moussette at 2707½ Cayuga St. at 11:55 p.m. Sunday. Although the amount of loss caused by the blaze is not yet available, damage to the dwelling was considerable, a fire department spokesman said today.

When firefighters and police arrived at the scene, the residence was fully enveloped in flames and a fire department offical advised it appeared to be of suspicious origin.

The blaze may have started in a closet in a middle bedroom and neither door to the dwelling was locked, reports noted.

Mrs. Moussette arrived while the blaze was being extinguished and reported leaving the house about 3 p.m. Sunday. The heating unit was turned down, the front door was locked and no lights were left on when she departed, the woman said.

Firemen remained at the scene for three hours and 45 minutes. Fire Captain Robert Bell sustained an injury while fighting the fire when he stepped backward into a hole on the property, it was learned.

Walgreens completes computerized customer medical records system

Walgreens has announced it has completed installation of its computer pharmacy system, INTERCOM, in its 911 pharmacies located across the country.

Along with enabling more efficient and personalized customer-service, INTERCOM provides direct communication between all stores, as well as between each pharmacy and corporate headquarters. Walgreens is the only major chain drug retailer to utilize such an extensive computer network.

INTERCOM saves customers time, since prescriptions can be filled much more quickly. Labels and receipts are printed instantly upon entry of the information into the computer. For a repeat customer, this process is even speedier, since the computer already knows the name and address and only requires the new prescription data. Refills require no new information at all — the computer automaticly checks if another refill is permitted and, if so, records the new refill.

INTERCOM eliminates much pharmacy paperwork and allows pharmacists more time for personal dealings with customers and customer medication counseling.

The record-keeping ability of INTERCOM also has allowed Walgreens to initiate a new medical emergency information service. Patient possession of a Walgreens Prescription Emergency Information Card now alerts medical authorities to contact Walgreens in emergencies for the crucial medical and prescription information recorded in each customer's INTERCOM patient profile.

By calling the customer's local Walgreens, or the pharmacy chain's 24-hour emergency hotline, responsible authorities anywhere in the country can obtain important patient information such as physician name, current prescriptions, and identification of specific allergies and health conditions.

Where state law allows, INTERCOM also permits maximum convenience in transferring prescription refills between Walgreen pharmacies. It also can provide customers a printed record for tax or insurance purposes of all prescriptions purchased at Walgreens and recorded on the system.

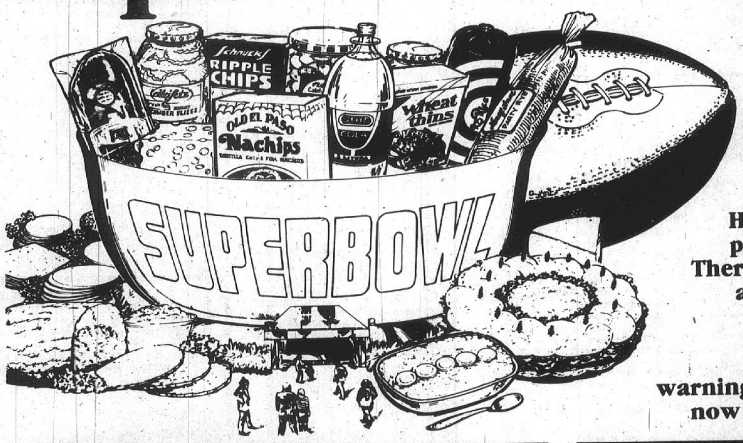

After several years of planning and testing, Walgreens began installing the first terminals of the current INTERCOM system 2½ years ago in its Des Moines, Iowa stores. The success of the system in initial markets led to the accelerated installation of INTERCOM. As new Walgreen pharmacies open, each will become a part of the INTERCOM computer pharmacy network.

A.O. Smith Automotive Division becomes a separate company headed by Paul J. Kemp

A.O. Smith Corporation's large Automotive Division will become a separately identified company, officials announced today.

Paul J. Kemp, 61, former A.O. Smith plant manager in Granite City and recently vice president and general manager of the Automotive Division, has been appointed president of the new company, which will operate under the name of A.O. Smith Automotive Products Company.

With sales in the area of $500 million, automotive products account for more than half of A.O. Smith's annual sales. It also is the oldest operating unit within the company with its history dating back to the turn of the century.

Thomas I. Dolan, president and chief executive officer of A.O. Smith, said the change to a separate company identity is part of a move to further decentralize the big-Milwaukee based manufacturing company.

In announcing the change, Dolan made the following statement: "I strongly believe that the operating managers of our various units know their business better than anyone at the corporate level and I further believe they ought to have the freedom to move rapidly to take advantage of opportunities.

"We will continue to support the A.O. Smith Automotive Products Company with financial resources, research and development assistance, legal advice and other forms of corporate staff services as requested, but for the most part the Automotive Products Company will operate as a separate organization, competing in its own arena."

Kemp said the change in name was a logical step in a process begun several years ago as the parent company began decentralizing its operations. He pointed out that in 1982 A.O. Smith cut its corporate staff by about 25 percent and many corporate staff functions were transferred to the divisions.

"This process is continuing," Kemp said, "and the move to a separately identified company provides us the freedom to move quickly to seize opportunities in our markets."

The new company will manufacture and market all current products lines in the Automotive Division, including auto and truck frames, control arms, rear trailing axles for front wheel drive cars, railroad brake beams and grating and other structural products. A.O. Smith is the nation's largest manufacturer of auto and truck frames.

The Automotive Products Company has a workforce of some 5,500 persons in manufacturing plants in Milwaukee and Milan, Tenn. It is currently reopening its plant in Granite City, which has been closed since 1980. It supplies products to all major U.S. car and truck builders.

A.O. Smith invented the pressed steel automotive frame in the early years of this century and has been a technological leader in the design and manufacture of automotive structural products.

Kemp said the designation as a separate company will provide greater autonomy and flexibility to operating managers of the A.O. Smith Automotive Products Company. He said the new company will continue to have the resources of A.O. Smith available to it, but decisions will be made at the company level.

Kemp has spent his entire career in A.O. Smith's automotive business. He first joined the company in 1947 as an hourly employee. He rose through the manufacturing ranks and in 1966 was named manager of the company's Granite City plant. He moved back to Milwaukee in 1971 as director of automotive manufacturing and services and was elected a vice president of A.O. Smith and named general manager of the Automotive division in 1979.

FRANK'S TAX FACTS

Did you buy any insulation, storm windows or doors, caulk, an automatic thermostat, or a more efficient furnace replacement burner for your home in 1983? If you did, you probably qualify for a 15% residential energy credit on your 1983 individual income tax return. The credit is limited to 15% of the first $2,000 or $300 and any credit previously used reduces this $300 limit. Also, if you purchased and installed a solar system or other wind or geothermal energy equipment, you may be entitled to a credit of 40% of the first $10,000 of cost for a maximum credit of $4,000. It, too, is cumulative and must be reduced by any credit previously claimed. Form 5695 should be used to claim these credits and please also note that if new legislation isn't introduced in Congress soon, this tax credit will not be available after 1985. Therefore, make that long intended storm window (etc.) purchase before 1986 or you may lose this valuable tax credit.

We are all aware that the tax filing season is upon us. Everyone is scurrying around to get all their tax information together for early filing and those early refunds. Many have asked me what information do I need to take to my tax advisor? My answer is simple, "everything". Take everything and let him decide what's deductible and what isn't. That's what you're paying him for. Many deductions have been missed by the failure of the taxpayer to do this.

This year, I plan on expanding the tax preparation service of my practice. If you are without a tax advisor or are dissatisfied with the you have, please call me for an appointment. I can promise you professional, personalized service at reasonable rates. For my elderly and disabled friends who are totally confined, I will be happy to make special arrangements to accommodate you.

Social Security changes in 1984

Several changes in Social Security are effective in January 1984:

BENEFIT INCREASE — If you receive Social Security or supplemental security income (SSI) benefits, your monthly payments will increase 3.5 percent effective with the January check. The maximum Social Security retirement benefit generally payable is now $734 a month for a person 65 in 1983. And the maximum federal SSI payment is $314 for an individual and $472 for a couple.

PAYROLL TAX INCREASE — If you are an employee, the Social Security tax rate you pay this year will be the same as in 1983 — 6.7 percent, even though your employer will pay 7 percent. This is because of a one-time 0.3 percent tax credit you will get.

SELF-EMPLOYED TAX INCREASE — If you are self-employed, your Social Security tax rate for 1984 will be 100 percent of the combined employee-employer rate (14 percent), rather than at a rate that was roughly 70 percent of the total. But you will receive a self-employment tax credit of 2.7 percent of your self-employment income for 1984 (as well as a 2.3 percent credit for 1985, and a 2.0 percent credit for 1986-89).

COVERAGE FOR FEDERAL AND NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATION EMPLOYEES — If you are newly hired by the federal government in 1984 or later, or if you work for a non-profit organization, you are covered by Social Security. And if you are a non-profit employee 55 or older first covered in 1984, you will need fewer work credits than normal to be insured for retirement or survivors benefits.

IMPROVEMENT FOR DISABLED WIDOW(ER)S — If you are a disabled widow or widower who started getting checks on your deceased spouse's Social Security record before age 60, your payments may be slightly increased in January (in addition to the regular benefit increase). And if you remarry, your benefits can continue. (This provision also applied to divorced surviving spouses.)

TAXATION OF BENEFITS — If you get Social Security benefits and have substantial other income in addition to your benefits, up to half of the benefits may be subject to federal income tax starting with 1984. Only about one in ten people are affected by this provision.

For more information about these changes, Quad-Cityans may contact the East St. Louis Social Security office. For more specific guidance on possible taxation of benefits, they may get in touch with the Internal Revenue Service.

Holliday, 30, East St. Louis, was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and driving with a revoked license last week after a collision between the front of his car, westbound on 23rd Street, and the right side of the auto of Leonard Hoffman, 2616 Grand Ave., northbound on Grand Avenue.

Korea steel plan an outrage, Seith says

The U.S. Export-Import Bank should avoid exporting jobs, in the opinion of A.E. Seith, a Democratic primary candidate for the U.S. Senate nomination.

Seith last week assailed the bank's decision to "use American taxpayers' money to finance the start-up of a $2.5 billion South Korean steel mill that could double that country's steelmaking capacity and destroy American jobs," in the candidate's words.

Seith termed the decision, coming on the heels of U.S. Steel's announced closing of its South Works plant in Chicago, "outrageous."

He called for federal legislation to reverse the decision and prevent future similar actions.

"At a time when 30,000 Illinois steelworkers are out of work, as are thousands across the nation, it is elementary that we should not help foreign steelmakers put even more Americans out of work.

"Instead, the federal government ought to use its vast resources to encourage revival of the American steel industry," Seith said.

Don Stazak, president of Local 65 of the United Steelworkers of America, Chicago, said he supported Seith's condemnation.

"I strongly favor enacting legislation which would reverse the Export-Import Bank's decision to guarantee a loan to South Korea and to prevent such decisions in the future," Stazak said.

The bank, a U.S. government entity, uses tax funds to make or guarantee loans to foreigners to purchase American products.

In the case of the South Korean plan, the bank has agreed to guarantee 85 percent of a $30 million loan to the Pohang Iron & Steel Co., Seoul, a government-owned monopoly. The guarantee is the first phase of building the $2.5 billion plant, Seith said, adding, "A loan guarantee means that if the South Koreans can't pay back the loan, U.S. taxpayers will.

"It is absurd for the U.S. to use taxpayers' money to help build a steel plant in South Korea instead of rebuilding the South Works.

"Although the sale of steelmaking equipment will put perhaps 200 Americans to work for a short time, in the long run by helping South Korea double its steelmaking it will likely put thousands of other Americans out of work.

"This is not the first time the Ex-Im bank has financed direct rivals of American companies. It has given the Brazilian steel industry nearly $70 million in loans and guarantees since 1976.

"My legislation would stop this misuse of taxpayers' money once and for all.

"In addition to hurting the steel industry, there would be two side effects.

"First, the guarantee would be the 'final nail in the coffin' of the steel industry in America and thus threaten our national security. If we lose our basic capacity to produce steel, we cannot maintain our national defense.

"We never would have survived World War II without the ability to make steel to manufacture trucks and weapons," Seith continued.

"Second, it would divert money that would otherwise be loaned to ar American business, which would create the type of jobs that would be ongoing."

On Nov. 20, Seith called for legislation to stop the bank from financing export of nuclear bomb-making material.

"A substantial portion of the bank's loans and guarantees have been used to finance the export of nuclear technology, fuel and equipment," he said.

"I have repeatedly condemned the U.S. government for encouraging U.S. banks to lend $30 billion to Brazil and more money to other countries.

"These nations are now defaulting on the loans. I have also called for legislation, similar to a proposal by Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.), to limit foreign loans."

Attorney begins prison sentence

Ben Urban of Collinsville was transferred from the Madison County jail to the Menard Correctional Center at Chester last week and will be kept in a special section during the next 30 days.

During that period, a decision will be made on a recommendation that Urban be moved to a minimum security prison at Vienna.

A spokesman said it is prison policy to hold newcomers in the prison's reception and classification center for a month.

Urban, who previously, had a private law practice and was Collinsville's city attorney until his resignation, pleaded guilty in December 1982 to theft of bond money in state overweight truck cases in Madison County. Funds were disbursed based on fake court orders.

He admitted taking more than $146,000 by posing as legal counsel for truckers.

He was sentenced last February to three years in prison and was ordered to pay back the money he had taken.

His attorney, Joe Brown, last month said it well could be that, because of the recommendation for transfer to a minimum security prison, Urban would never actually mingle with the prison population at Menard.

Notification that an appeal of Urban's sentence had been rejected by the Illinois Supreme Court led to revocation of his appeal bond, and Madison County Circuit Judge Phillip J. Rarick ordered that Urban begin serving his prison term.

Urban surrendered himself to authorities Jan. 5.

Fleet Reserve Auxiliary donates food, gifts

The Greater St. Louis Unit 267 of the Ladies Auxiliary Fleet Reserve Association coordinated several Christmas distribution programs for veterans and enlisted men throughout the holiday season.

One of the programs consisted of giving 25 Christmas hams to the lower-rated enlisted personnel at the U.S. Coast Guard headquarters, the Coast Guard base, Iron Street, and on the Coast Guard Cutters O'Bion, Sumac and Cheyene.

The group also made available 25 "pocket gifts" and cookies to be given to the servicemen and women passing through the USO during the Christmas holidays. The unit also furnished four Christmas tablecloths for use by the center during the holidays.

To the Veterans Hospital at Jefferson Barracks, the unit gave one hundred wrapped Christmas gifts that were distributed to veterans at the hospital.

A young civilian family in need also benefited from the unit's program, as they were given several large baskets of canned goods, staples and a ham for their Christmas dinner.

U.S., Israel To Coordinate Military Activity

©1983, New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON — A U.S.-Israeli political-military committee will be set up to coordinate military planning, joint maneuvers and the stockpiling of U.S. arms in Israel.

President Ronald Reagan and Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir made the announcement Tuesday after two days of talks. They said the increased military cooperation was intended to deal with the Soviet military presence in Syria and elsewhere in the Middle East.

"I am pleased to announce that we have agreed to establish a joint political-military group to examine ways in which we can enhance Israeli-American cooperation," Reagan said after a mid-day meeting at the White House with Shamir, Defense Minister Moshe Arens and other senior Israeli officials.

"This group will give priority attention to the threat to our mutual interest posed by increased Soviet involvement in the Middle East," the president said.

Shamir said, "Syria constitutes today a major threat to the peace in the area by occupying more than 60 percent of Lebanon and by its massive concentration of Soviet arms and personnel on Syrian territory."

The joint political-military committee will be headed on the U.S. side by Rear Adm. Jonathan Howe, director of the State Department's bureau of politico-military affairs. The name of the Israeli co-chairman is expected to be announced shortly.

Shamir met with Reagan for the second time in Washington in the first week of January. The group is to meet at least twice a year.

The agenda items announced by Reagan were "combined planning, joint exercises, and requirements for prepositioning of U.S. equipment in Israel."

Similar steps were announced in a memorandum of understanding signed in 1981, but that was suspended when Israel virtually annexed the Golan Heights a few weeks later.

In addition to the increased strategic cooperation announced Tuesday, the United States also agreed to a series of economic and military concessions to Israel, including the lifting of the ban on the supply of cluster bombs, provided that adequate safeguards are worked out.

The most significant economic concession to the Israelis was the U.S. declaration that it was willing to negotiate an accord that would allow goods shipped between the two countries to enter duty free. The Israelis believe this would be a major boost to their exports.

The U.S. plan to set up a free-trade area with Israel is aimed at aiding that country's flagging economy, in much the same way that the United States

SIUE professor offers project ideas for science fair contests

Now is the time for young people interested in science to begin preparations for this year's science competitions, according to Robert Williams, associate professor of elementary and early childhood education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Perhaps students already have begun working on a project or have an idea of what they would like to investigate. However, if elementary, junior, and high school students need assistance in finding a topic, Williams suggests that they consult their teachers or librarians, scan the newspapers, talk with professionals in health related fields, or research various science magazines, encyclopedias, or science textbooks. A trip to the local zoo might trigger an idea for a project, Williams said.

"ALL OUTSTANDING science projects usually have one thing in common," Williams said. "They are the result of creative thought." Creative thinking means contributing a new idea, a new approach, or a new solution to a problem, he explained.

Williams is the coordinator for the 1984 Science Fair scheduled at SIUE March 30-31, in which elementary, junior high and high school students from the southwestern Illinois counties of Bond, Calhoun, Clinton, Greene, Jersey, Macoupin, Madison, Monroe, Montgomery, Randolph, St. Clair and Washington are eligible to enter the competition.

Categories to be considered for the competition include aerospace science, behavioral science, botany, biochemistry, chemistry, conservation, earth science, electronics, engineering, health science, mathematics, microbiology, physics and zoology.

IN PREPARING for local or regional competition, Williams pointed out that students should first learn as much as they can about the subject they are interested in investigating, remembering that every science project should have a definite purpose.

Sources for information may include: national associations and organizations, research foundations, professional societies, federations, science and technological centers, museums, zoos, industrial corporations and professionals.

Williams said professionals may be found at universities, museums, nature centers, industries, local businesses, airports, zoos, governmental agencies, environmental organizations and hospitals.

OTHER STEPS in the process include: collecting and organizing the data, experimentation, measuring the results, building an exhibit and presenting the project to the judges.

Workshops teaching teachers how to successfully conduct science fairs and for parents interested in helping their children develop projects will be held during the remainder of the month at various area locations. For information concerning the upcoming science fair or fairs held at local elementary and secondary schools, interested persons may contact Robert Williams at the SIUE department of elementary and childhood education by calling 1-692-3082.

EPA completes lead testing in Venice; finds no dangerous lead blood levels

The Illinois Department of Public Health has found no lead levels considered hazardous to residents' health, after testing 136 individuals in Venice.

The results complete the door-to-door testing program launched here by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, after lead levels up to thousands of times the range expected to be found in cities were discovered in Venice lots and alleyways.

Eighty-eight adults and 48 children participated in the testing program.

In late November, the state health department released the first results of the intensive program that indicated 51 residents showed no dangerous blood lead levels. The actual lead blood levels that were found have not been issued.

Quad-City residents wishing to continue having their lead levels monitored may call 931-4545 to make an appointment with the state's lead poisoning control office at 4700 Nameoki Road.

The lead poisoning concern began when the content of lead in the air here violated the state's air standards. The EPA later traced the air pollution violations to the direction of Taracorp Inc. and its 200,000-ton lead waste pile at 15th and State streets.

The air violations prompted a soil testing program in parts of Granite City, Madison and Venice. The state discovered some samples at Taracorp's lead smelter contained 14 to 30 percent lead-to-soil content. Less, but still high, lead levels were found in soil up to a half mile and farther from the smelter. Blood tests also were conducted which showed no dangerous blood lead levels.

Taracorp has since ceased its smelter operations and is currently concentrating on its fabrication process.

A second round of blood tests were conducted last year after the EPA discovered alleyways and lots in Venice had been coated with discarded battery casings from Taracorp's lead waste pile. The latest blood samples were taken from residents near the contaminated alleys.

Taracorp is presently trying to block the state's efforts to have the cleanup of its lead pile placed on a Superfund list, which would make that site eligible for state and federal cleanup funds. The company is concerned the threat of later being handed a bill for the cleanup will block needed investors from the company.

Taracorp has asked the judge in its bankruptcy proceedings in Atlanta to block the state's request for the Superfund listing

Debate continues on park seat

By GEORGEANN McGEE
of the Press-Record

The departure of Venice Park Commissioner Calvin Ratliff continues to haunt the board, which has postponed until Tuesday the appointment of a new member.

Ratliff gained a four-year seat on the board last April and was elected vice president of the park district the following month. Ratliff, who holds a degree in recreational administration, had to leave the city last fall to attend job-related classes in Texas. He is expected to return this spring.

Since the departure, the Rev. John Henry Williams, park president, and Commissioner Earl Hogan — once political allies — have been locked in a dispute on the status of Ratliff. Williams is anxious to fill the vacancy. Hogan wants the spot left open for Ratliff's return.

Ratliff gave an oral resignation at a board meeting last fall after his request for a leave of absence was rejected, but he has not submitted a formal letter stating his intentions. Ironically, it was Hogan that finally made the motion to declare the seat vacant.

Hogan planned to rescind his motion at next Tuesday's board meeting, but has been advised by an attorney from the state parks and recreation association that, once the post has been declared vacant, the motion must stand. Hogan could, however, reappoint Ratliff to his former post or appoint a temporary commissioner to serve until Ratliff's return.

The board had intended to settle the vacancy issue last Thursday and had received three letters from applicants prior to the meeting. The absence of one of the four remaining commissioners stalled the move.

Hogan had commented prior to the Thursday meeting that, if Ratliff did not continue on the board, Hogan would support the Rev. Harold Wilson, president of the Madison Branch of the NAACP (National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) and a county sheriff's deputy. Wilson had not, however, been among the three applicants for the job. On Thursday, a letter of application from Wilson was received by the board.

The other three applicants are Leona Diana Sherrills, Lionel Woolfolk and Arnold Johnson, who is the brother-in-law of the board president.

Whoever is appointed to fill the position will serve until the next park district election in 1985. According to Hogan, if Ratliff is not reappointed to his position, the replaced commissioner will run for his seat again in 1985. The Press-Record could not reach Ratliff in Texas for comment Friday.

Residents need to 'trash' bad habits

By GEORGEANN McGEE
of the Press-Record

Granite City residents may need to clean up their acts to save the city money, according to Alderman Phillip Miller, chairman of the sanitation and inspeciton committee.

According to the city's contract with its new refuse collection agency, Allied Disposal, Inc., the company will pick up large discarded items that can be handled by two men. The service is provided at the same time as the regular refuse pickups.

Alderman Miller said residents have apparently been leaving large items at curb sides and in alleyways at times other than regular collection hours, and then calling the city sanitation department for pickup service.

The sanitation department has been responding, but the department must pay Allied Disposal $150 to haul away its large trash containers now being filled by residents' trash. The city currently pays the trash collection agency an extra fee for those items to be removed from residents' property.

"It's costing the city a chunk of money," Miller said.

According to the city's contract, Allied Disposal, Inc., will collect bulky, large, non-porus items left at the curb, along with all brush and lumber cut and tied into bundles not exceeding 50 pounds, or 6 feet in length.

No automobile parts, concrete, bricks, dirt, rock or roofing material will be accepted. That type of material will be received only at the Laidlaw Waste Systems Landfill in Belleville. Residents are responsible for transporting that material to the landfill themselves and should not call the city's sanitation department to perform the service.

Allied makes its regular residential pickups between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m., except during severe weather. Residents should not expect the company to make special trips to their homes if trash was not put out in time for the regular collection.

Allied Disposal representatives may be reached by calling 877-9801.

Eagles donate $5,000 to special education

A grant of $5,000 from the Jimmy Durante Children's Fund of the Fraternal Order of Eagles was recently received by Aerie 1126 at 2558 Madison Ave.

The fund, named in honor of the famed comedian, a life-member of the Eagles, has been established to help schools, hospitals, clinics and other institutions that care for retarded and handicapped youngsters. The fund is maintained by voluntary money-raising activities in Eagle Aeries and Auxiliaries.

Steve Balen, representing the Madison County Region 1 Special Education District, recently accepted the $5,000 check at the local Eagles home on behalf of the special school district. The check was presented to Balen by Don Gray, Aerie 1126 Jimmy Durante chairman, and Aerie 1126 President Randy Odom preceding an Aerie meeting.

Selection of the grant recipient was made by the members of the Granite City Aerie. A total of nearly $240,000 in grants has been made to Illinois since the beginning of the Jimmy Durante Children's Fund.

To date, more than 5,500 individual grants now have been made to children-helping establishments in the United States and Canada.

MAN THREATENED WITH GUN AFTER WINDOW IS BROKEN

Royce Boyd, 427 Broadway, Venice, told police last week that he had been threatened with a gun by a man, after accidentally hitting a window at a Madison business with his car.

The owner of the store said he had pulled a gun on Boyd, but only because he thought Boyd was going to leave the scene of the accident.

Joyce Boyd, passenger in Boyd's car, said that she had asked her brother to jump-start her auto at the store because it would not start. While her brother was pulling his car next to hers, she said he hit the window. Afterwards, she said that a man came out of the store and told her brother not to move the car. Then she said a man with a gun came out and kicked the driver's door of her brother's car.

Police did not charge anyone in the case, but Boyd said he would contact the states attorney to posible file charges.

2nd dispute over work on Interstate

Another dispute over work on Interstate 255 — this one involving laborers in two locals — may have prompted vandalism which did at least $10,000 damage to a subcontractor's equipment last week.

A represetative of the subcontractor, Pensoneau Excavating of Belleville, told Illinois State Police he believes someone in Local 44 of the Laborers may be behind the incident. Some members of Local 44 have been upset that Local 100 members have been working in what is normally Local 44 territory.

A Local 44 spokesman says he doubts that anyone in his local was involved in the vandalism.

At least seven persons were injured at the 255 site near Collinsville, Nov. 18 in what was described as a free-for-all between members of Teamster Locals 525 of Alton and 50 of Belleville. Authorities said the fight was the result of a jurisdictional dispute.

A meeting involving Laborers Union officials and contractors was held last week to clarify an agreement between Locals 100 of Caseyville and 44 of Collinsville on providing workers for the I-255 project near the Madison-St. Clair county line.

That was the word from Hugo Schewe of Edwardsville, Laborers district council business representative, and Local 44 business representative Nick Ceretto Jr.

The meeting had been scheduled even before Pensoneau's equipment was vandalized.

Some Local 44 members have been dissatisfied with the jurisdictional agreement and the fact that mostly laborers from Local 100 have been working in Madison County for Pensoneau, the only firm currently working at the I-255 site.

Normally, Local 44 supplies laborers on the northern side of the St. Clair County-Madison County line and Local 100 has jurisdiction south of the line.

Among those at the meeting were Ceretto and Local 100 business representative Ron Shevlin.

The agreement on how to divide work at the site was made by Ceretto's predecessor, Terry Richter, and Ceretto had some questions about it. Such agreements are not put in writing, Schewe and Ceretto said.

Richter apparently did not explain the agreement to Local 44 members, Schewe said.

Under the agreement, Local 100 is supplying workers for Pensoneau and one other subcontractor. Local 44 is to supply workers for the main contractor, S.J. Groves and Sons of Springfield, and all other subcontractors.

At times, members of other locals are to be working outside of what is their normal jurisdiction.

Ceretto said he believes the work on I-255 will be split "pretty even," although he wishes the assignment of laborers could have been based strictly on jurisdiction. "Sometimes it's hard to do a split job like this when there's so much crossing back and forth," Ceretto said.

The vandalism to equipment occurred three-fourths of a mile north of U.S. 40 in Madison County.

Hydraulic hoses, wiring and fuel lines were cut, electrical gauges were smashed and electrical cables were damaged on various pieces of equipment. The cost of damage could prove to be higher than $10,000, depending on what is found as the equipment is repaired, according to owner Narman Pensoneau.

Precautions are being taken to prevent further vandalism, he said.

"I don't really think any of our people did it," Ceretto said.

Pensoneau said his firm is abiding by the agreement worked out at the pre-job conference by the labor locals but is suffering for it.

Ceretto said he agrees that Pensoneau is abiding by the agreement and is simply "in the middle" of the labor dispute.

Pensoneau Excavating received the contract for box culverts and storm sewers for the I-255 project.

Pensoneau said there have been problems since his firm began its work in September because Local 44 members did not understand the agreement.

Ceretto said he has started explaining the agreement to Local 44 members who have come up to the union hall.

Although Local 100 has been sending workers to Pensoneau, there have been two from Local 44 since the job started and about 25 percent of the manhours have gone to Local 44, Pensoneau said. The number of crew members has varied from three to 12, Pensoneau said.

Local 44's main share of the I-255 project has yet to begin.

Only four Local 44 members altogether have been working, Ceretto said. The approximately 100 unemployed members apparently are driving around a lot and are rankled to see Local 100 members working in Madison County, he said.

Richter had been accused by some Local 44 members of giving away the local's work on the interstate to Local 100, but that was not the only reason Richter left as business representative, it was indicated.

Local 44 has had a high unemployment rate and has looked forward for several years to the I-255 project.
